Over 100 women gathered together for a recent quarterly Deals & Divas panel discussion in New York. The panelists included Faith Hope Consolo of Douglas Elliman, Annemarie DiCola, CEO of Trepp, and Beverly More, Special Assistant for private donor relations at Enactus. Each spoke about their career highlights and some of the twists and turns they took along the way. A cocktail reception prior to the panel discussion allowed time for networking among the attendees.

DEALS & DIVAS

Founded by Marcia Nelson of Anchin, Block & Anchin, Deals & Divas brings together a diverse group of female executives in the deal area — including investment bankers, venture capitalists, angel and private equity investors, real estate investors and developers, attorneys and advisors.
