

HAVE YOU HEARD ...

SWEDISH watch entrepreneur Filip Tysander has clocked up a bargain in Soho.

The millennial millionaire scooped up Unit N16B at Bizzi & Partners' 565 Broome Street for $14.635 million, a more-than five percent discount on its listing price.

Tysander is the founder of Daniel Wellington, one of today's most popular international watch brands. He famously named the brand after a Brit he met while backpacking around Australia.

565 Broome is the Renzo Piano-designed high-rise with a private covered porte cochere with automated parking.

Tysander's four bedroom, 3.5-bath pad was listed by Stacy Spielman, Andrew Anderson, Joshua Lieberman and Benjamin Glazer at Douglas Elliman.